Burglaries of city businesses being investigated

By Gail Wade
Eastern News staff writer

Charleston police continued to collect information Wednesday on the more than $1,000 in currency that was reported stolen from two Charleston businesses on Thursday and Sunday.

The Ben Franklin store in the Wilb Walker Shopping Center reported to police Friday morning that $573 in cash was taken from its bank bag Thursday evening.

A total of $467 in small bills and change was stolen Sunday from the restaurant safe at Hardees.

Detective Ken Belleau said Wednesday that his department is currently "gathering background information as a process of eliminating suspects."

Belleau said police have a "list of suspects."

The theft at the Ben Franklin store was not discovered until Friday morning when a bank official called the store to inform them that their deposit bag contained nothing but tissue paper.

An official of the Ben Franklin store said that he counted the $573 and put it in the bag at about 8:30 p.m. Thursday. He said he had left his office for a short time because he had noticed some children stealing candy in the store.

The official returned to count check receipts and credit card purchases and placed them in the bag. He then locked the store and delivered his deposit to the Bank of Charleston.

The Hardees' theft was discovered by the restaurant manager Dennis Matthews Monday morning.

Seventy dollars in quarters, $85 in dimes and $312 in small bills was taken from the store safe, which was opened by combination.

The theft occurred after closing Sunday night sometime after 10:20 p.m.

The police report states that there was no indication of forced entry into the building.

Airport crash claims life of radiologist

By Marilyn Vise and Mark Wisser
Eastern News staff writers

An Oak Park man was killed early Wednesday morning when his small plane crashed attempting to land at the Coles County Airport.

Dead is Emanuel Grigg, an Oak Park radiologist.

The cause of the accident has not been determined, but Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) and National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) officials are conducting a full-scale investigation.

Grigg was apparently approaching the airport's east-west runway when his twin-engine Cessna 300 crashed north of the runway about 1:15 a.m.

Grigg was alone in the aircraft and was killed instantly, a Coles County Airport authority spokesperson said Wednesday.

"The investigation will really get going tomorrow," Williams Jones, FAA official, said Wednesday.

"We'll have representatives from Cessna engines and Continental Motors here tomorrow," Jones said.

Continental Motors makes the engines for Cessna planes.

Grigg departed from DuPage Airport in Chicago enroute to Charleston.

The weather was reported to be very favorable. State police report that "you could see the stars and there was no rain on the windshields."

Jones said that there was strong evidence that the plane crash was a ground explosion but that it was too early to tell what caused the explosion.

A state policeman who said he saw the crash from his rear-view mirror also said he thought the explosion occurred when the plane hit the ground.

Jones said Grigg was apparently going to Charleston hospital where he works as a radiologist.

Carter to campaign for father on campus

Jack Carter, 28-year-old son of democratic presidential candidate Jimmy Carter, will campaign for his father on campus Friday.

Carter, whose father Tuesday finished first in the Florida Democratic primary, will speak at 3-3:30 p.m. in the union addition Tuscola-Arcola room, Dave Harrison, a Student Senator, said.

He is also scheduled for appearance at the Coles County Association for the Retarded offices and downtown Charleston.

The charred remains of a Cessna 300 twin-engine plane which crashed early Wednesday morning claiming the life of radiologist Emanuel Grigg lie near one of the runways at the Coles County Airport. The cause of the accident is still under investigation.

Possible Hart impeachment dropped

By Lori Miller
Eastern News Government Editor

Plans to initiate impeachment hearings against Financial Vice President Larry Hart were considered and then cancelled Wednesday by a Student Senator who refused to remain unidentified.

The senator said early Wednesday he was considering submitting a motion for impeachment of Hart to the senate for incompetence in office resulting in unconstitutional actions" but said later in the day that he and Hart had "resolved their differences."

The senator had listed four charges against Hart concerning his duties as financial vice president.

The charges included failure to draw up a senate budget for next year, failure to advise either the senate or student body president Mick Chizmar on senate financial matters and failure to consult Chizmar on student government financial matters.

All the charges, if true, would be in violation of the student government constitution's duties for the financial vice president.

In addition, the senator in his initial statement said Hart failed to receive and send activity boards' budgets to the Student Senate as required by the Apportionment Board (AB) bylaws.

Hart in his capacity as financial vice president also serves as chairperson for the AB.

Hart was in conference with the AB Wednesday night and was unable to comment by presstime.

In other student government business, the Student Senate will consider a motion Thursday which would restrict voting in the Greek District to social fraternities and sororities belonging to the Interfraternity Council (IFC) or Panhellenic Council.

The senate will meet at 8 p.m. in the Union addition Tuscola-Arcola room.

Currently all Greek affiliated social organizations vote in the Greek District.

In effect, the motion would prohibit all black fraternities, with the exception of Kappa Alpha Psi, and black sororities from voting in the Greek District.

In other business, Senate Speaker Bill Scaggs said the senate will consider two proposals from the Residence Hall Association (RHA) which concern student residence rules.

The first proposal would allow students who have lived in the dorm three full semesters or have completed 45 semester hours to move off-campus without forfeiting their first housing installment.

The other proposal would request the Board of Governors (BOG) to establish Eastern as a small university, which would set funding, according to the proposal, for a capacity of 9,635 students.

Last week the senate sent the motion back to its Housing Committee for clarification.

Thunderstorms

Thursday will be mostly cloudy and warmer with highs in the 50s and showers and thunderstorms likely. Showers and thunderstorms are even more likely Thursday night with lows in the mid or upper 40s.

CAA to discuss curriculum revisions

A motion made in regard to the curriculum revision proposal submitted by Vice President for Academic Affairs Peter R. Moody will be discussed Thursday by the Council on Academic Affairs.

CAA will meet at 2 p.m. in the Union addition Tuscola Room.

The motion made at the last meeting requested that departments recommend their best courses for possible inclusion in the area of general education according to criteria of the revisions proposal.

The revisions proposal calls for changes in the general education requirements, distribution requirements, limiting a major to one-third to one-half of the total program and provisions for a minimum of 15 hours of electives in each program.

Dormitory Counselor Evaluation plans to be presented at RHA meeting

Final plans for the Residence Hall Counselor Evaluation will be presented to the Residence Hall Association, (RHA) at Thursday's meeting.

RHA will conduct a brief meeting at 4:45 p.m. in Carman Hall.

The counselor evaluation is a student response questionnaire consisting of seventeen questions.

Dan Mizer, RHA president said that the questions are not just typically yes and no.

"Comments and suggestions from residents are encouraged so that the counselor will get something out of it," Mizer said.

Questionnaires will be given to dorm presidents April 9.

Final plans on Little People's Week-end will also be presented at the meeting.

Mizer said the committee is presently making a budget for approval by RHA for the activity.

"Whatever RHA appropriates, I'm almost positive the Housing Office will match this figure," Mizer added.

Beatle reunion possible

LONDON (AP) — The Beatles getting together again for a concert in America, a columnist for the Daily Mirror said Monday.

Paul Callan quoted the father of one of the members of the group as saying they had decided definitely to get together again for a $30 million concert in the United States.

Callan wrote in the mass-circulation Mirror that 66-year-old Harold Harris, father of former Beatle George Harrison, told him: "George has relented, some hesitation, and the boys have agreed to do the show in the United States."

House candidates:

Editors note: The following are profiles of candidates running for state representative in Tuesday's primary. Profiles of senate candidates will appear Friday.

Democrats

Robert Craig

Robert Craig, D-Indianola, is an incumbent seeking re-election for his 12th term in the house.

He is presently fifth in the house in total seniority and will become third if he is re-elected.

Craig is under indictment in federal court in Chicago for allegedly participating in a scheme with the ready-mix concrete industry to raise load limits on state highways.

He is accused of accepting a bribe in exchange for helping to pass the legislation, which was later vetoed by Governor Richard Ogilvie.

Craig is also charged with introducing "fetcher bills" into the legislature in an attempt to solicit bribes to withdraw the legislation.

The specific bill for which he is charged would have required rental car companies to stamp the titles of their cars as "rental" rather than "used" when they are sold, thus lowering the resale value.

The trial has been postponed several times and may not be held until summer.

Craig has maintained his innocence of the charges since the indictment and his case has been helped by a federal court ruling that a legislator's voting record can not be introduced as evidence against him in a criminal trial.

Craig said his bid for re-election is based solely upon his record in the General Assembly.

He said he has fought hard for Eastern and "will challenge anyone in the house — in either party — on the ability to get things done."

Craig also said he has a four-star rating from the state's labor groups.

"My record is there," Craig said, "I have to stand on it, good, bad or indifferent."

Larry Stuffle

Larry Stuffle, D-Charleston, is running for his first term in the house after working the past four years as an aide to State Senate President Cecil Partee.

Stuffle holds Bachelors and Masters degrees in Political Science from Eastern and served as student body president while in school.

He was the only student body president in Eastern's history to be impeached and removed from office, after he was accused of participating in a scheme to rig a senate election.

Stuffle has said his impeachment was done "in a kangaroo court atmosphere" and said he considers it irrelevant to his bid for the house.

He said the senate's action was politically motivated out of anger because, among other things, he tightened up some of student government's spending policies, forcing some senators to personally pay expenses they had improperly turned in for reimbursement from the student government budget.

Stuffle also said most people on campus at the time knew the impeachment was a "sham" and he was later elected to Who's Who Among College Students by the widest margin of any candidate.

He was also later re-elected to the Student Senate.

After leaving Eastern, Stuffle worked as a legislative intern on Partee's staff for one year before joining the senator's staff full time.

He has worked with the Senate Education Committee where he said he had input on "every school aid bill and almost every education bill that went through the senate."

Stuffle is on record as opposing any attempt in the next two years to increase tuition at Illinois colleges and universities and has said he advocates doing something about private schools receiving more than their fair share of state funds.

He also said he supports the Equal Rights Amendment and endorses collective bargaining in education.

Bill Wieck

Bill Wieck, D-Marshall, is seeking a seat in the house after an unsuccessful primary attempt in 1974.

Wieck, 43, has taught high school in Marshall for 16 years and has served on the Marshall city council. He is also a Democratic precinct committeeperson.

Wieck said he was a member of the American Federation of Teachers several years ago when it was possible to have an affiliate membership with the Chicago chapter.

He said he is no longer an active member because Marshall is too small for the group to operate effectively.

Wieck, who has a son attending the University of Illinois, said he opposes a tuition increase during the next two years.

He is also a supporter of the Equal Rights Amendment.

Wieck has said there is "too much bureaucracy in state government" and "civil servants are not doing much work — some can't even act civil."

He proposed that agencies in state government be examined and budgets be cut to make the operations more efficient.

Wieck also said he "wants to be like George Shipley," who is the representative

4 Democrats, 2 Republicans competing for 53rd District representative seats in Congress for the 22nd district which includes Charleston.

Wieck said Shipley's determination to help citizens in his district whenever he can is a standard which should be followed by all public servants.

James Hills

James Hills, D-Marshall, is presently serving as Clark County Sheriff and making his first attempt for the state legislature.

He was elected sheriff in 1970 and re-elected in 1974 and the major emphasis of his present campaign is law and order.

Hills said lawmakers are making it "more and more difficult" for law enforcement officials to fight crime and said he would propose stiffer sentences for all crimes and reinstatement of the death penalty if he is elected to the legislature.

When asked about his biews toward raising taxes, Hills said he is not concerned about taxes but instead is "worried about being able to leave home to go to work so I can pay taxes without having someone waiting in a U-Haul truck to empty my house."

He said he believes in the non-partisan administration of justice and, if elected, said he will represent the district "regardless of the politics of the people within."

Hills has not taken a definite stand on a tuition increase, but he said he believes everyone has an equal right to an education and he would oppose tuition costs "skyrocketing too high."

He said he could not support the Equal Rights Amendment as it is presently drawn up because it is "too broad." Republicans

Republicans

Charles Campbell

Incumbent "Chuck" Campbell, R-Danville, is seeking his seventh term in the house after first being elected in 1962.

Campbell failed in a re-election bid in 1964, but has gained a seat in the legislature in each election since 1966. Campbell, a University of Illinois graduate in Business Administration, currently serves on the House Appropriations Committee, Human Resources Committee and is the minority spokesperson for the Veterans Affairs and Registration and Regulation Committee.

His platform rests on three main issues — uncontrolled spending in government, overregulation and overrestriction of businesses and free enterprise and encroachment on the rights of the individual.

"All other issues fall within these three main categories," he said.

Campbell said wasteful spending by government — especially on bureaucracies — causes high taxes.

On individuals' rights, Campbell said a person "should be permitted to do almost anything he wants as long as it doesn't interfere with another's rights."

Campbell, a native of Collison, opposes tuition hikes, favors the Equal Rights

Board continues to take action with little input

Despite all efforts by interested parties, the Apportionment Board remains determined to make all decisions about its tuition waivers (salaries) behind doors that are as closed as possible.

Wednesday, the board decided to set $12,000 as the amount which it will distribute in tuition waivers which it has decided it will distribute in lieu of the salaries some organizations were getting and other organizations wanted.

At first glance, it doesn't seem all that bad that the board took the action it did but when it is studied a little more closely the ramifications begin to surface.

The most important thing is that the board has set the $12,000 figure, a figure which will become irrevocably set in the psyches of the board members. They won't be inclined to go over that figure even if somehow they think they should.

The board took this action despite assurances by chairperson Larry Hart that no action would be taken on the salary question other than setting up a meeting so that all heads of the activities which stand to be affected by the decision could make their feelings on the issue known.

However, the board made its decision without contacting either the financial advisers or student heads of the activities.

This is the way the decision to replace salaries with the tuition waivers was made. The discussion and vote came up at a meeting that had been billed strictly as a session for distributing budgets.

No advance notice was given to anyone who would be in any way affected by the decision and it was only through sheer happenstance that representative of the Eastern News, one of the organizations that was relieved of its salaries, was at the meeting to argue for salaries.

No matter that the AB effectively overturned the $12,000 figure Thursday. The fact is, the board took the action with little input or deliberation and should in the future extend to the persons and groups who will be affected by their decisions the courtesy of appearing before the board and making their views known on the subject at hand.

Three months later, board still unsure of how much money it has

On Dec. 12, an Eastern News editorial asked if anyone knew how much money the Apportionment Board (AB) had to work with.

The reason was that through a bookkeeping error in the Business office over $20,000 was transferred from state tax money to the student activity fund.

Naturally, when the error was unearthed the money had to be paid back leaving the AB with $20,000 less than it thought it had.

This left a big hole in the AB fund when the various student activity boards were requesting extra money.

However, the AB decided to conduct an audit and came up with $18,000 it hadn't known it had.

The reason for all this background, and even this column, is that question, "how much money does the board have to work with?" came up again recently.

However, this time it was not the newspaper or some other outside body that was doing the questioning but members of the Apportionment Board itself.

The matter came to the attention of the board at Wednesday's meeting when member Anne Zilla asked how much money the board had to add to next year's funds from the current fiscal year.

Letters

Profiles of political candidates would be of benefit to students at Eastern who take time to vote

With the rapidly approaching Illinois primary, we think it would be good idea for the Eastern News to do unbiased biographies of some candidates.

There are some ver interesting personalities running for state offices and each has some newsworthy value for voters. The voters need to be informed of merits and "skeletons" alike of candidates for office. Even surface research of such candidates as Walker, Howlett, Stuffle, Craig, Coffey, Weick, and Thompson would provide some very interesting copy.

We hope that the Eastern News, as an informing voice of Eastern Illinois University students, will consider this proposal. Credible and unbiased biographies would be great help in making election day decisions. Thanks.

Larry E. Combs
Kelly Brewster

(Editor's note: The Eastern News agrees with the writers of this letter. Please see page 3 for the first of a series on political candidates.)

Jim Lynch

Bill Clark, the AB's faculty adviser, suggested the board assume it would have no money from this year to add to next year's budget.

This answer contented the members of the board until it came time to vote on a request by the Student Senate's Housing Committee for $175 out of this year's funds to print a "tenant's union" supplement in the News.

Now $175 is not too much money and the request, since it was made by the Student Senate, would have passed the board without any problem except that one of the board members figured out if the board was to assume there is no money left from this year, how could $175 be given away.

That led to a rather animated discussion by the board members, and others at the meeting, as to exactly how much was left from this year in the AB coffers.

All the members scurried through their notes from previous meetings and tried, in their own special way, to determine just how much money they had left.

Someone suggested that the board had $9,000 left but that figure was too high for most of the members since about $3,500 had been spent, maybe, since the $9,000 figure had been valid.

Someone else suggested that the board had only $4,000 left but that amount would have been too low if the $9,000 amount, minus a possible $3,500 of course, had been correct.

It got to the point where board member Cr Courter jokingly made a motion that AB assume it had $20,000 from this year.

Naturally, during this grossly inefficient process of trying to determine just how much cash they had to work with, some of the board members became quite upset.

"I'm tired of coming in here and going through notes from meetings three months ago trying to figure out how much money we have left," board member Rick Ingram said.

"It seems to me we ought to have someone appointed to take notes and keep an accurate record of how much money we have."

This was suggested almost three months ago in the News' editorial. How much longer will getting an accurate system of keeping track of the board's finances take?

Democratic convention to go past first ballot—Connelly

The possibility of this year's National Democratic Convention running past the first ballot was predicted by Joe Connelly of the Political Science Department Tuesday.

This would be the first time since 1952 that either the Democrat or Republican parties have not nominated their candidate on the first ballot.

Connelly spoke on the existing primary elections and what led to their formation as part of the history lecture series being presented Tuesday in the Booth Library Lecture Room.

"We are likely to see Wallace, Carter, Jackson and Udall battling over the final votes," Connelly said. "There is some speculation that Hubert Humphrey could be a possible second ballot candidate."

Unlike the Democratic Primary, Connelly said that the Republican Primary will be "a clear cut choice."

"Both parties are taking a more conservative view of issues because of the outcome of the 1972 elections," he said.

A former member of the Illinois General Assembly, Connelly is presently the chairperson of the Coles County Democratic Central Committee.

He is also a candidate for delegate to the Democratic National Convention committed to Sen. Adlai Stevenson. His first choice over Stevenson is Utah Senator "Mo" Udall.

Debaters to travel to Kansas, Detroit for tournaments

Eastern's debate team will face stiff competition during March with tournaments at the University of Kansas and the district tournament at Wayne State University in Detroit.

The three-day University of Kansas tournament, set for Thursday-Saturday, is a national contest in which about 80 schools from around the country compete.

The team will be at Wayne State March 18-20 for the district qualifying tournament, from which the top teams will have the opportunity to go to the national debate tournament at Boston College April 10-12.

Choral concert to be presented Thursday featuring soloist Johnson, three choruses

A free concert of choral music sung by the Cecilian Singers, Chamber Singers and the Mixed Chorus will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Dvorak Concert Hall.

Works by Josquin, Morley, Vivaldi, Brahms, Debussy and Copeland will be performed, Burton Hardin, assistant chairperson of the Music Department, said Tuesday.

June Johnson of the Music Department will be the featured soloist of the evening. Along with the mixed chorus, Johnson will perform "In The Beginning," by Aaron Copeland.

"This setting of the story of creation was written in 1947, and found immediate acceptance across the globe," Hardin said.

Hardin added that this performance marks the second presentation of Copeland's work by Eastern's Music Department.

In the first performance given about ten years ago, Hardin said, Johnson sang the solo.

The Cecilian Singers will perform excerpts from Vivaldi's "Gloria."

Two student conductors, Raymond Boothe and Chris Lange, will direct the Cecilians in works by Haydn and Brahms.

Fliers to hold first meeting Thursday

Eastern's flying club will have its initial meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Union addition Mattoon room, Calvin Couch, an organizer for the group, said Monday.

Couch said the meeting will be to find out who is interested in flying, including students, faculty, and civil service and any interested townspeople.

"The flying club is being organized to train people how to fly airplanes at an economical rate and also to serve as a social meeting for area pilots," Couch said.

Amendment and collective bargaining and is "dead set against any form of gun control."

Jim Edgar

Jim Edgar, R-Charleston, is making his second attempt for the legislature after being defeated in the 1974 primary.

Edgar is an Eastern graduate and served as student body president.

Following graduation he served as legislative intern on the house Republican leadership staff and later became a full-time staff worker.

He was the staff chief for former House Speaker Robert Blair and later worked on the staff of State Senate President William Harris.

Edgar said he feels he is best qualified to represent the 53rd district because of his experience in Springfield and because of his near-life-long residence in the district.

Edgar said Eastern has been "close to my heart" since he attended the Lab School 20 years ago and said if he is elected, he will do whatever he can to see that Eastern gets its fair share of state money.

He said the legislature will probably "not be in a mood to raise taxes in the next two years," adding that he agreed with that feeling because it will allow the state to set priorities with the money it has now.

He said higher education could save $6 million by combining the various governing boards over Illinois universities, saying the boards may have "outlived their usefulness."

He has taken no definite stand on a tuition hike, saying it is too early to make any promises, adding that "realistically, it will go up eventually."

Edgar said he is and was a supporter of the Equal Rights Amendment.

The University Board (UB) will sponsor a dance marathon Friday and Saturday, Donna Beyersdorfer, coordinator for the event, said Wednesday.

The event will begin at 7 p.m. Friday and continue until midnight Saturday in the Union addition Grand Ballroom, Beyersdorfer said.

She added that there will be several breaks during the marathon to give couples a chance to eat and rest.

During one of the breaks Saturday morning, Beyersdorfer said, movies featuring The Three Stooges, the Marx Brothers and Abbott and Costello will be shown.

There are seventeen couples signed up to dance in the marathon.

"Music will be provided by two live groups performing at the marathon as well as recorded music," she said.

The groups Power Play (formerly Plush) and Fire Creek will perform at the Dance-A-Thon.

Money collected for the dance-a-thon will go to the Retarded Citizens Fund, Beyersdorfer said.

"All students are encouraged to come and join in dancing, however, they are not eligible for prizes, she added.

Prizes have been donated by area merchants for pizza, beer, jewelry, stuffed animals, gift certificates and services from area service stations.

Beyersdorfer said the final schedule for the dance marathon will be posted in the union Friday.

Panthers down Pumas; gain regional finals

EVANSVILLE — Eastern's basketball squad made it 13 wins in a row and earned a berth into the finals of the Great Lakes Regional by knocking off St. Joseph 65-56 here Wednesday.

Eastern will play the winner of the Wright State-Evansville game at 9 p.m. Thursday for the regional championship.

The Panthers maintained their cool despite strong second half efforts by the Pumas which forced Eastern to commit numerous turnovers.

Eastern's offense showed balanced scoring again as eight players ranged from five to 14 points apiece.

Jeff Furry led the scoring with 14 followed by William Patterson's dozen.

Once again, defense was the dominant factor as the Panthers hustled the Pumas with a tight man-to-man.

Panther head coach Don Eddy said "The defense was pretty effective, but the offense and rebounding was spotty."

Eddy called only one timeout the whole game with that one coming late in the final half.

"We were generally in control most of the game," was Eddy's response to not calling a timeout.

St. Joe's coach John Wienert was quoted in the Evansville Courier Wednesday as saying "It's hard to say how good they (Eastern) are because they play 9,000 games at home," he said. "Playing on the road is a true test of skill and talent. I'd love to play every game at home."

The Panthers showed that they can play both home and away as they never let the Pumas have a lead.

When asked if Eastern had enough offense to handle Evansville, Eddy responded, "All I know is Chattanooga was averaging 90 points a game and they got only 50 against us. Defense is the equalizer."

Both teams opened play somewhat nervously.

The Panthers hit the first shot, a layup by Jeff Furry which was followed nearly two minutes later by a 17 foot jumper from the corner by William Patterson.

A stingy Panther defense kept the Pumas flustered throughout the entire first half forcing poor shots and a total of 13 turnovers.

Derrick Scott kept the Pumas' Gary Klamrowski in check the entire first half, allowing him just four points.

Klamrowski had lead the Indiana Collegiate Conference in scoring during the regular season but was virtually helpless due to Scott's defensive pressure.

The Panthers were aided in their effort to hold down the Puma attack by excellent work on the defensive board.

Eastern allowed St. Joe to take down only three offensive boards while Eastern pulled down 11.

After starting out in a zone defense the Pumas switched to a man to man at the midway point of the half and maintained that defense for the remainder of the half.

The Panthers began opening up advantage around the 13-minute mark the half as William Patterson, He Williams and Eric Garrett capitalized on the lax Puma defense to pick up easy layups making the score 17-9 at the 10:55 mark of the half.

The Panthers extended their lead nine points at the 8:27 mark when Charlie Thomas took an inbound pass and found the lane wide open enabling him to score the easy layup.

Torrejon, Branum to appear in Division I wrestling championships

By Tim Yonke

Eastern News Sports Editor

Eastern's dynamic duo of wrestling, Ed Torrejon and Rex Branum, will carry the Panther banner to the NCAA Division I National Tournament at Tucson, Ariz. Thursday through Saturday.

Both wrestlers qualified for the meet by their outstanding performances at the Division II event held last weekend at Fargo, N.D.

Torrejon, a 158 pounder, took second place in the tourney which automatically qualified him for the Division I event.

Branum, a 142 pounder, finished third but was selected as one of two wild card berths to go onto the upper division nationals.

Head coach Ron Clinton will accompany the pair to Tucson, which is old stomping grounds for both wrestlers as they attended the University of Arizona for one year before transferring to junior college.

For Torrejon, a junior from Phoenix, it will be homecoming as his hometown is Tucson.

"He will be wrestling right there in front of his home crowd," Clinton said, noting that probably a lot of Torrejon friends and neighbors will be attending the match to cheer him on.

Branum, a senior, went to Joliet Junior College before transferring in to Eastern.

Torrejon brings a personal season record of 27-6 into the event while Branum has a 34-3-1 log.

"Division I is an entirely different competition," Clinton remarked.

The head mentor compared the semifinals and finals of the NCAA Division II tourney as comparable to the opening rounds of the Division I meet.

Clinton said Torrejon's and Branum's success would "depend on the drawings and seeds they get."

"There are no easy ones when you get to the national championships," Clinton said.

He went on to say it has been around four or five years since Eastern last had a wrestler compete in the Division I meet.

4 Panthers travel to Detroit for NCAA indoor track finals

By Bob Fallstrom

Eastern News staff writer

A group of athletes that has established eighteen records during the 1976 indoor season are representing Eastern at the NCAA Division I Indoor Track Championships Wednesday through Saturday in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

Since there is no Division II indoor meet, Detroit's meet will include both large and small schools. The University of Texas-El Paso won last year's title with 36 points. Eastern did not compete.

That 18 records have been set by an entire team during the indoor season is outstanding, but only four athletes have combined for the effort. In all, 23 records were set by the squad during Eastern's 5-0 indoor season.

Senior distance ace Mike Larson led the way with six records while freshman sprinter Eddie Hatch established four freshman and two varsity records.

Middle distance runner Paco Morera and jumper Toni Ababio have set three and two marks, respectively, on the way to qualifying for the national meet.

Morera is the latest addition to the Detroit entourage. Running in an open meet Sunday—the last day to qualify for the meet—Morera set a school record in the 880 and qualified for the nationals in the mile.

In the meet run in Champaign, Morera, a sophomore from Spain, was timed in 1:51.7 minutes in the 880, breaking his own record of 1:52.3. It is the seventh-best indoor collegiate time for the event since Sept. 1. The record is held by Mike Boyd of Eastern New Mexico University in 1:49.0 minutes.

It is the fastest time run by an Eastern performer this season by three seconds.

Three hours earlier, Morera sped to a 4:05.1 time in the mile, only two-tenths of a second off Larson's school record. This time also qualifies for the national meet and is a Spanish national record.

Morera's performance Sunday wrapped up a brilliant weekend. On Friday against Southern Illinois and Murray State, Morera was a double winner in the mile and the 1,000.

Morera also set the varsity and fieldhouse records in the 1,000 during the indoor season, running the event in 2:12.6 minutes.

Heading Larson's list of accomplishments are record-breaking runs in the three-mile and two-mile runs on consecutive weeks.

Larson smashed Ken Burke's record by almost twelve seconds in the three-mile, speeding to a 13:46.7 time. The time is also a fieldhouse mark.

The following week, Larson ran 8:47.0 two-mile, snapping the former record by 15 seconds, also a fieldhouse record.

The event Larson will compete in Detroit, though, is the mile. In the Illinois Intercollegiate meet in February, Larson flashed to a record 4:04.9, while finishing second to Illinois' Craig Virgin.

Hatch has already carved a niche Eastern's history as its fastest quartermiler ever. He has run the event 48.5 seconds, setting the varsity and freshman records.

Hatch also shares the varsity 600 record with teammate Reggie Johnson 1:12.1 in addition to holding the freshman mark in that event.

A 31.2 clocking in the 300 netted Hatch another freshman mark. Hatch also anchored a freshman mile relay team to record 3:25.1 clocking, running his leg 49.4 seconds.

Hatch sat out the team's final mile with a groin strain, but is ready.

In last week's season-capping win over SIU and Murray State, Ababio set Eastern records in the long jump and triple jump but finished second in both events. The long jump record is now 24-feet-5½ inches.

Ababio broke teammate Charles Holcomb's record in the triple jump with a leap 51-feet-6½ inches. Ababio will compete in both events at the meet.

Football staff signs three more recruits

Eastern football coach Konstantinos announced Wednesday signing of three more recruits.

Running backs Pete Catan and Cobb and lineman Chandler Mack joined the 17 prospects Konstantinos signed on Feb. 18.

Mackey, a 6-foot-2, 228 pound lineman who can play either offense or defense, signed an Eastern letter of intent on Feb. 18 but did not sign a national letter of intent until after he was chosen with the state wrestling champion.

Mackey is from Thornton High School in Harvey, Ill.

Catan is a 6-foot-2, 218 pound fullback from Penfield High School in Penfield, N.Y. who can also play linebacker.

Cobb, who gained 168 yards in last year's annual North Carolina-South Carolina High School All-Star football game, is from Clover High School in Clover, S.C. He stands 5-foot-10 and weighs 185 pounds.
